Explore Eaton's Art – The Contemporary Chinese Art Eaton, Hong Kong unveils new Artwork – The Living World Series – Swimming

(Hong Kong, 5 October 2015) – Located at various key points throughout Eaton, Hong Kong, guests will find a wide selection of sculptures, paintings and photographs produced by some of China's foremost artists. Strategically positioned around the Hotel, these pieces not only create a pleasing environment but also allow the hotel guests to learn more about the contemporary Chinese artwork.

Eaton is excited to welcome a new addition to this collection - a stainless sculpture "Living World Series – Swimming". This masterpiece by leading Taiwanese artist Ju Ming was unveiled earlier this month and is now displayed in the Hotel's Exert Fitness Centre on 21/F.

The reflective nature of this highly polished figure expresses the delicate texture of the ladies' skin but also helps to share the shapes and colours of her surroundings. Ju Ming combines this attractive finish with a striking but elegant body shape, and through adding black and white elements to the piece she becomes even more interesting and pleasing to the eye.

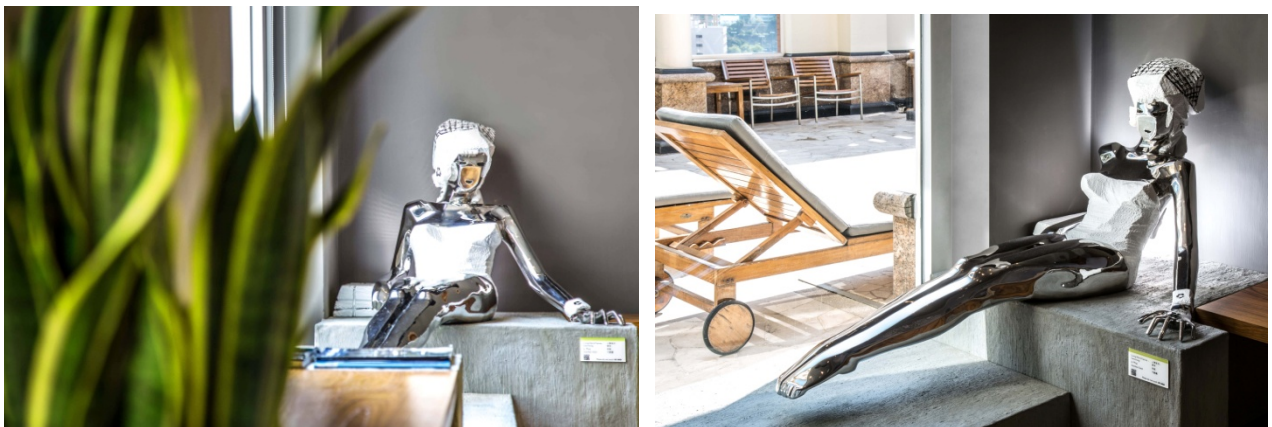

"Stainless steel has a sense of time and it reflects the vibrant colour and light of the city. Compared to wood, it can vividly show the dynamics of the figure", Ju Ming said.

The guests can also find other art piece highlights in the hotel, such as "Childhood – Aubade", "Smile" from "Red Memory Series" by Chen, Wenling, "Beneath The Flow", "Can I Fly" and "San San Series" by Liao Yi Bai, "Buddha on the Cloud" and "Dwarf Series" by Luo Zhen Hong.

Apart from the aforementioned artists, others featured include Chen Jia Gang, Lu Xin, Zhu Yan, Hu Ren Yi, Xue Song, Xiong Xi Qiu, Liao Yi Bai, Qu Guang Ci and Jiang Shuo. Each art piece comes with a customised QR code that guests can scan to learn more about each piece.
